Billing: Personal Time

Someone who bills for his or her time may not charge a client for time used for personal purposes.

EXAMPLE A lawyer must receive the client's OK before billing that client for time he used eating a meal in order to work more hours for the client.

© Copyright 2026 Richard B. Aiken | www.practicalhalacha.com