

Entering Dual-Use Church

If a church is used only infrequently for prayer services, a Jew may enter the church at other times but not during prayer services.

EXAMPLE      You may enter the Sistine Chapel, in Vatican City.

REASON      The Sistine Chapel was built as a church and even though it is sometimes used as a church, it is primarily an art museum.