

Attire: Married Women: Hair Covered during Prayer

A married woman is not required by halacha to have her hair covered when praying alone, but the custom is for her do to so.